

Andrew Pert

Director - Client Partnerships

apert@fenwickelliott.com

As a senior consultant, Andrew supports Fenwick Elliott's continued international expansion especially within the Middle East, Africa and Southeast Asia territories.

With 18 years' experience in the Built Environment sector, Andrew has created leading commercial partnerships, and global influencer networks, especially in the Middle East having relocated to Dubai 10 years ago.

Through Andrew's publishing, digital media and events background, his key assets are in his ability to elevate the firms existing collaborative business partnerships and activities, as well as developing new ones, ensuring accessibility to the senior Fenwick Elliott team is always available to our clients, in the firms growing international footprint.